TAFTVILLE

Friends of Harry Mills are glad to see that he has improved from his recent accident, while playing baseball.

George Meyers was a recent visitor in South Manchester.

William Donahue and Christ Hofer expect to take in one or two games of the coming winter series.

Monday morning a pair of horses drawing an ice wagon were frightened at the corner of Front and North B street and bumped into a trolley car that was on the curve.

The members of the Penman Wheel club are to hold a smoker and meeting tonight.

NORWICH TOWN

At the First Congregational church Sunday morning, Rev. O. D. Fisher, pastor of North Stonington Congregational church, supplied the pulpit in exchange with the pastor, Rev. Gordon P. Bailey, during the session of the Men's Forum, the subject for discussion was Should the 18th Amendment to the Federal Constitution be repealed? Thomas Bacheler was the speaker.

The Young People's Christian Endeavor meeting at six-thirty had for its topic, "Thy Will Be Done, With My Time, Matthew 4:7-13." (Consecration meeting) Miss Ida Beebe was the leader.

At the congregational prayer meeting Thursday evening the theme will be "Our Life With God, Psalm 133. No concessions from God, God as the Grace Companion, Sharing God's aims and work."

The Drop-in class of the First Congregational Sunday school, Mrs. Gordon F. Bailey teacher, held a very successful cafeteria supper Friday evening from six to eight, in the chapel. The menu consisted of baked beans, salads, sandwiches, cake and coffee. Members of the class served. There was a good attendance which included people from the city. The net proceeds were nearly $40.

At the Sunday afternoon service of Seaboard Road Christian Endeavor society, held at three o'clock in the hall, Rev. Joseph W. Carlevalle of Norwich, gave a very interesting talk on Americanization Work Among the Foreigners in Norwich, of which he is in charge. In the course of his address a number of verses of Scripture were quoted.

Little Miss Thelma March a former resident of Norwich Town was a week end visitor with Mr. and Mrs. John S. Bennett of Town street. Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Bennett and the former niece Miss Daisy Warner who resides with them and their guest, were visitors at Hawthorne's Cove, at the home of Mr. Bennett's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bennett.

Mr. and Mrs. William Russell Jarrett and little daughter, former residents of Philadelphia, have taken up their residence in the Schwenk house on New London turnpike.

L. Stanley Gay, draughtsman for the Sea Sled Company of Mystic, spent the week end at his home on Upper Washington street.

At the Congregational parsonage, Rev. Gordon F. Bailey and Mrs. Bailey have had as guests for several days Rev. Mr. Bailey's brother in law and sister, Judge William H. Williams and Mrs. Williams of Derby.

Some men owe their position in society to their wives and everything else they have to their creditors.

Tender Feet Helped by Soothing Massage

Aches, excessive perspiration and smarting can be ended

ONE of the new developments in the proper care of the feet—a part of Blue-jay Foot Treatment—is a cooling, penetrating balm, called Blue-jay Foot Relief.

Massage the feet with it thoroughly, after bathing them with Blue-jay Soap. This brings quick relief.

Another part of the treatment is Blue-jay Foot Powder, a pleasing deodorant. The three articles—obtainable at all druggists—keep your feet in perfect condition and end nervous annoyance and constant irritation.

Republican Victory In Town Election

CASPER K. BAILEY
Re-elected First Selectman

The republican party won the town election in Norwich Monday, electing its entire ticket by substantial majorities, although in two districts, Greenville and Taftville, there were democratic majorities, but they were offset by the republican figures in the other four districts.

First Selectman Casper K. Bailey, republican, who has held that office for six years, was re-elected in convincing style, with C. P. Bushnell his republican running mate, while Errol C. Lillibridge, democrat, will be the third selectman, as he beat out P. T. Connell, democrat, the present third selectman, by 21 votes.

Selectman Bailey was returned to office for another term by a majority of 151, receiving 2,874 votes to 2,684 for Mr. Lillibridge, and running two ahead of the straight republican majority of 189 as indicated by the vote for the two registrars of voters.

The election was quiet one, although there was much activity shown by the party workers at the different polling places, and many automobiles were available to transport voters who wanted to cast their ballots at the noon hour or with as little loss of time as possible from their business engagements. About 58 per cent. of the men and women voters who were registered cast ballots, the figures showing that a total of 11,007 registered voters exercised their privilege of franchise.

Voting in Districts.

The following shows the registration and the voting in each district:

	Men.	Women.	Men.	Women.
Registered	2,711	2,711	2,711	2,711
1	1,192	1,192	695	695
2	1,491	1,491	618	438
3	956	956	358	246
4	772	772	237	146
5	684	684	294	162
Totals	7,293	4,764	2,394	2,074
Total electors registered	11,057
Total electors voting	6,425

Contest for Assessor.

Aside from the contest for selectman, special interest attached to the vote for assessor for four years, in which Michael J. Curran, democrat, who has been an assessor for 19 years had Arad H. Manning, republican, running against him. This brought the closest struggle on the ticket and Mr. Manning was the winner by 34 votes.

John B. Galt, republican, was elected the other assessor, his term being for two years and his majority was 137 over William T. Delaney, democrat. This will make the entire board of assessors republican.

5,566 Ballots for Town Clerk. Town Clerk Charles S. Holbrook, who was nominated by the republicans and endorsed by the democrats, polled a combined vote of 5,566, and Harold T. Robinson, who was nominated for tax collector by the democrats and endorsed by the republicans, had a combined vote of 5,444.

All four of the republican nominees for school board elected, and Charles H. Raynes polled the highest vote of any candidate in the election, having 2,394 ballots cast for him, while Mr. Bushnell, the republican selectman, had the second highest vote with 2,387. The one nominee to fall of election out of the five nominated was Anthony Grzymkowski.

James C. Fitzpatrick and Fred G. Prothero were the two republican members of the board of relief elected and Mr. Frank Leonard the democratic member.

School Board.

Walter F. Lester, republican, and Dr. Edward J. Brophy, democrat, were elected members of the town school committee.

Mr. Brophy's office this year, and James C. Macpherson, republican, and William P.

McGarry, democrat, were elected to the school board to take office in 1922. In the Central district, where three machines were in use at the town hall, there were 863, 785 and 421 votes shown respectively on the machines. When the polls opened there at 5:30 the first man to vote was Officer John F. O'Neil, followed by Ashley T. Boon, and the first woman was Mrs. Ethel Sevin Rader, followed by Miss Barbara Allen. In the first hour 62 men and 10 women had voted and in the first four hours there had been 232 men and 97 women to cast their ballots. By 3:30 p. m. 1,072 men and 446 women had voted, and when the polls closed 1,294 men and 757 women had voted. The last person to vote was James Barry, about a minute before Moderator M. E. Jensen declared the polls closed at 6 p. m.

Count Quickly Taken.

The count was quickly taken off the machines by the moderator, 18 minutes sufficing to get the figures from all three machines on to the tally sheets. The first outside district to report was the Sixth, East Side, whose figures reached the town hall at 6:30, and were closely followed by the West Side figures. The complete vote was known and announced by Moderator Jensen at 7:30, having been tallied on an adding machine by the moderator after the district figures had been assembled on the general tally sheet.

Town Meeting Next Monday.

Immediately after the close of the polls at 6 o'clock First Selectman Bailey called the annual town meeting to order and it was at once adjourned to next Monday night at 8 o'clock on motion of Judge H. H. Pettis.

Election Officials.

The following were the election officials in the polling places in the six districts:

STORES COLLECT STOCK LED

IN SPRINGFIELD CONTESTS

A report from the Eastern States Exposition, at Springfield, Mass., received by the animal husbandry department of the Connecticut Agricultural College at Storrs, shows that the Connecticut stock proved superior to all eastern and almost all the western stock shown. Flintstone Model, the 3-year-old bull, owned by the college, was placed first in his class and later made second, senior and grand champion milking shorthorn bull of the entire show, outclassing Greenstone Duke, a ten-year-old bull from Ohio which formerly held these honors.

Of the six Herford sires sent from Storrs the college won first and champion on fat Herford steer calf, second and fourth on a senior and a junior yearling steer, and third on the aged Herford bull T. Woodford 8th. In the aged bull class, T. Woodford 8th was beaten by two western bulls owned by W. A. Pickering of Missouri and Gov. Warren T. McCray of Indiana.

The third champion ribbon won by the college stock was the Pennosceles Senior Belgian mare which was also grand champion at Springfield last year. Dragon, Jr., aged Percheron stallion, was second in his class and Double Carbell was second in the Percheron mares. Juliette was second in the fifty class and Cardelle 34 was third in the aged mare class.

At a pure bred ram sale held at the exposition the two bringing the highest

A. Preston, Willington. This will probably be the last of these annual meetings, since by the new state law town visitors have been legislated out of office; most counties are holding a final, complimentary meeting.

BROOKLINE MAN FATALLY HURT IN GROTON ACCIDENT

Morris Ellensky, 51, of 88 Quarry road, Brookline, Mass., died Sunday morning in a New London hospital, as the result of injuries received Saturday night about 9 o'clock when the automobile he was driving crashed into a small fence at Trail's Crossing in Groton.

Mr. Ellensky left Brookline Saturday in his Studebaker touring car and was bound for New London where he intended to spend the Jewish holidays with his wife and children who are visiting his father, Hyman Ellensky, in New London.

About 8:30 o'clock he stopped at Stoughton and called his wife on the telephone, telling her he was on the way and would soon arrive. He failed to put in an appearance in New London about 9 o'clock the motorman on a Groton and Stoughton trolley car found him lying in the road at Trail's corner.

He was removed to the hospital in New London and died about 4 o'clock Sunday morning. There is a sharp curve at the junction of two roads at Trail's crossing and there is a small fence on the curve as a protection around the trolley tracks. It is thought that Mr. Ellensky's car sideswiped the fence, throwing him out and that one of the pickets of the fence punctured his side.

This theory is born out by the fact that one side of the car, that nearest the fence, is badly damaged. Mr. Ellensky, although suffering greatly from his injury was conscious almost up to the time he died.

He was engaged in the shoe business in Brookline. Coroner J. J. Desmond of this city is conducting an investigation.

Ellensky had had his name changed to Elliott by the Massachusetts supreme court. One of his surviving brothers in "Buster" Ellensky, the famous long distance swimmer.

POETRY

EQUINOCTIAL.

The sun of life has crossed the line;
The summer-shine of lengthened light
Faded and failed, till, where I stand,
The equal day and equal night.

One after one, as dwindling hours
Your glowing hopes have dropped
Away,
And soon may barely leave the gleam
That coldly scores a winter's day.

I am not young; I am not old;
The flush of morn, the sunset calm,
Paling and deepening, each to each,
Meet midway with a solemn charm.

One side I see the summer fields,
Not yet disrobed of all their green;
While westerly, along the hills,
Flame the first firs of frosty sheen.

Ah, middle-point, where clouds and storm
Make battle ground of life's my life!
Where, even matches the night and day
Wage round me their September strife!

I bow me to the threatening gale;
I know when that is overpast.
Among the peaceful harvest days
An idle summer comes at last!
—Adeline D. T. Whitney, in Indianapolis News.

SOMEWHERE.

I want to go out to Somewhere,
That city beyond the Seas,
Where worry and care are banished
And life is a bed of ease;
Where Tomorrow is never nagging,
And the people never pray
To the gods of dread Days,
Or the troubles of Yesterday.

I want to take ship for Somewhere! ***
The City of Many Isles,
Where nobody thinks of frowning,
Where every one smiles and smiles!
Where flowers are always blooming,
And skies are forever blue, ***
I want to go to Somewhere,
I want to go to Somewhere, with You!

But not by myself, O loved one,
For never would Somewhere be
The city of my heart's dreaming
Unless you were there with me.
So come, my love, and go with me,
Hand in hand by the fragrant waves
Of the wonderful city of Somewhere,
The city of Fearful Days,
—Henry Edward Warner, in Richmond Times-Dispatch.

A MORNING MIRACLE

I woke today to find my door
A phantom like that level filled the vale,
As clear and sharp in all its details,
As if with water it were covered o'er.
The waves came lapping to the orchard shore
And stretched for miles until I lost their trail
With islands gemmed and here and there a sail
That seemed intent still further to explore.

Above my head the dawn was changing gray
With equal witchery to him and gold,
A double vision and supremely grand,
Until the great mariner whisked away
The mystic draperies by him controlled.
An awe again the solid smiling
land,
—James D. Law in Philadelphia Ledger.
